In the next two weeks, over 100,000 people will die of hunger in South Sudan.

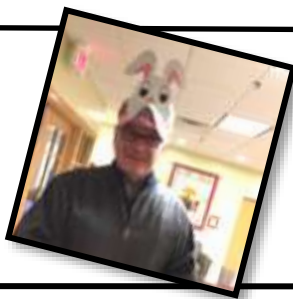

Today, 4pm, Great Hall, come meet Harriet Baka, the leader of the largest women's ministry in the country who is a tireless advocate for peace and development. She has led reconciliation efforts, and taught, mentored, and helped women develop sustainable businesses in areas where communities have been attacked and villages burned.

Last week, Harriet spoke at a UN Conference in New York and shared about how women of faith are proclaiming peace and creating opportunity and hope.

This afternoon, VPC will be blessed to hear firsthand from Harriet about her life saving work.
