Serve & Grow

What does generosity look like for a 10 year old?

Claire Wright was listening to the CCH Minute for Witness about the effects of hurricane Matthew on Haitians. She was so moved, she's asked for Clean Water for Haiti this year in lieu of birthday presents.

Claire is collecting money for bleach for families to use to purify water ($7.00 per gallon). She is also taking a collection to provide salt and sugar for families to keep in their homes for rehydration solutions for the treatment of cholera.

Generosity comes in all shapes and sizes.... What sets your soul on fire for generosity?

VPC Capital Campaign:

Thank you to those who were able to join the conversation and attend a focus group! We want your feedback.

Please complete your survey by November 2nd. If you need a survey, email Christina Jones at christina.jones@viennapres.org.

We want to hear from you. Please be a part of the discussion!

Today we celebrate the joy of generosity. Thank you for joyfully making a commitment to support the Ministry and Mission of VPC in 2017. These are some of the many ways your gifts are igniting Souls on Fire for Christ's mission.

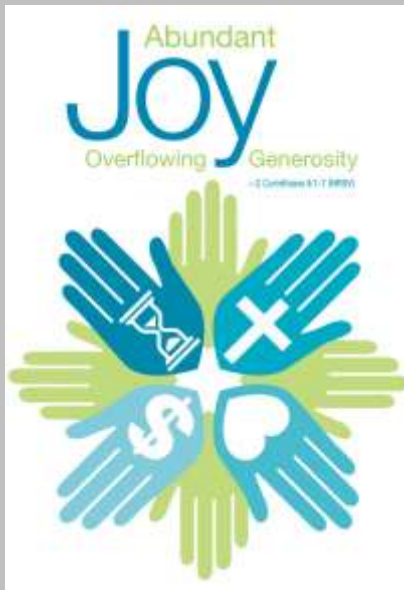

You may make your commitment using the pledge cards or by pledging online at viennapres.org/pledge-card.

Mission and Outreach Updates

You are more than what happened to you: Book-Signing Event with Ruth Everhart

Many levels of excellent writing are skillfully woven into this memoir. It is far more than just a moving narrative by a remarkable person (although it is that). It is a story of lived theology: everything that has to do with God and the Gospel written in the language of everyday suffering, pain and blessing and love. Rape and shame, friendship and family find their place on these pages providing witness to a mature lived faith. -- EUGENE PETERSON, author of The Message

Today 3pm, Sanctuary. Ruined, by Ruth Everhart.

Books available in Grapevine ($12 paperback, $20 hardback). Read it before October 30.
